LITTLE GUESTS' CODE

1. Although Children are only Little Guests, their future potential is the greatest and therefore in Małopolska they are the most important!
2. The joy and happiness of our Little Guests are our priority! „When the child laughs, the whole world laughs.” (Janusz Korczak).
3. Adults should treat Little Guests with due dignity and understanding. “All grown-ups were once children.” (Antoine de Saint-Exupery)
4. Little Guests look around and learn and embrace the world through fun, which adults should accept and understand.
5. “It does not matter what you play; what matters is what you think and how you feel about it. You can reasonably play with a doll and play chess foolishly.” (Janusz Korczak)
6. Adults are forbidden to be lazy; they are to provide creative instructions and use every moment to bring Little Guests closer to the world.
7. Recognition and development are energy-consuming, so Delicacies (nutritious only of course) must be provided regularly.
8. Little Guests develop better in an atmosphere of kindness and cheerfulness. Therefore, Big Guests are asked to smile, be sensitive and... strive for a pinch of imagination, because „the children have the wonderful power to change into everything they desire.” (Jean Cocteau)
9. Fantasies allow Little Guests to embrace the world. Legends, fairy tales and fables are a great method to do it and carry the wisdom of life, so we read to our children, neighbours' children and everyone's children every day!
10. “A child is small and lightweight and there is less of him. We have to stoop and lower ourselves to his level.” (Janusz Korczak)

Little Guests are sensitive beings with great potential for our future, so in Małopolska Countryside, they will be surrounded by special attention and respect.

THE BEST PRODUCTS OF RURAL TOURISM IN MAŁOPOLSKA

COME AND VISIT EDUCATIONAL FARMS IN MAŁOPOLSKA!

Educational farms are a way of getting to know and experience the rural life and work of the farmer in direct contact with the daily rhythm of the farm, the range of colours, shapes, sounds and tastes of the countryside. Farms offer several hours of educational programmes for organised groups but they also welcome you to spend more time on Agri-tourism farms that combine work with specialised educational activities.

Recommended Farms have farm animals or agricultural crops intended for presentation to groups of children and young people. Educational farms are offered through school and non-school programs, but are primarily tourist attractions for families with children. Staying in an Educational Farm gives you the opportunity to get acquainted with the past and present occupations - farmer, miller, potter or blacksmith, and learn how to prepare food, for example, bake bread, use wild plants and herbs, pickle vegetables, produce fruit preserves and make home-made sausages. You can also get acquainted with bee-keeping, listen to interesting stories about the life and development of the bee family, see the queen bee and of course taste the honey.

In some farms in Małopolska there is also an opportunity to get acquainted with the pastoral culture of the Beskid Highlanders or the history of the Huculs and work with Hucul horses.

The Polish Network of Educational Farms was set up to carry out a social mission of disseminating, especially among children and young people, knowledge about the countryside, agriculture, food origins and rural cultural and natural heritage. Learning based on the values of a rural farm is an innovative approach to education. It is an effective and child-friendly education that combines theory with practice and experience, providing knowledge based on the work of the senses and developing multiple intelligences.
